Imre Kertész Kolleg Jena "Eastern Europe in the 20th Century. Historical Experience in European Perspective"

The planned research center shall conduct comparative research and aims to provide a new basis for the scholarly reflection on the historical experience of Eastern Europe during the 20th Century. Detached from the political debates within the region itself, the research group will open up spaces for scholarly projects that promise new insight into central problems of the history of Eastern Europe.

Subject to approval, the planned research center will be able to invite ten research fellows [Reg. Nr. 41/2010] to Jena as from January 1, 2011, for a period of up to one year. The fellowships are designed for outstanding scholars doing research on the modern history of Eastern Europe or related fields. The fellows are expected to conduct a larger scholarly project that corresponds to the profile of the research group. They are expected to take their residence at Jena. Funding will be provided according to the academic position at the home institution. For further information see
