Fellowship Date: 2010-12-15

The Museum of Jewish Heritage—A Living Memorial to the Holocaust, is now accepting applications from highly qualified graduate students for a ground-breaking fellowship opportunity called FASPE (Fellowships at Auschwitz for the Study of Professional Ethics). The Fellowships are available to students in journalism, law, medical and seminary schools. All program costs, including international and European travel, lodging, and food, are covered. The program will take place in Summer 2011. Applications must be received by December 15, 2010 to be considered.

FASPE is an innovative initiative in its second year, designed to challenge students to consider contemporary ethical issues facing their profession, using the Holocaust and the conduct of their historical peers in Nazi Germany as a framework for study. Fellows will spend time in New York, Berlin, Krakow, and Oświęcim (Auschwitz).

Twelve to fifteen Fellows from each profession will be chosen to participate in FASPE through a competitive process that draws applicants from across the country. The tentative program dates for each program are:

Journalism: May 25 – June 5, 2011

Law: May 25 – June 5, 2011

Medical: June 26 – July 7, 2011

Seminary: June 26 – July 7, 2011

Candidates of all religious, ethnic, and cultural backgrounds are encouraged to apply.

The FASPE curriculum was designed by staff at the Museum of Jewish Heritage in collaboration with faculty and students from Yale Medical School, Yale Law School, Columbia University's Graduate School of Journalism, and Georgetown University.
