

Peace Research Institute Frankfurt Fellowships

Fellowship Deadline: 2010-09-30

For its research department “Private Actors in the Transnational Sphere” (department head: Professor Dr. Klaus Dieter Wolf) the Peace Research Institute Frankfurt (PRIF) is currently offering for an initial period of 2 years. Applicants should, at a minimum, have an upper second class MA/MSc degree in social sciences. The doctoral research project may be based on the topics ‘corporate enterprises’ or ‘civil society organizations including religious organizations’. A very good command of both German and English in word and writing is indispensable.

2 PhD Fellowships

The fellowship amounts to Euro 1.200 per month.

Family allowances are granted according to the guidelines of the Volkswagen Stiftung (compare DFG guidelines). Project funds are available for expenditures in connection with the research project. Fellowship holders are obliged to participate in the PhD seminar at PRIF.

PRIF is an equal opportunity employer (Total E-Quality certificate) and particularly encourages qualified women to apply. Applications from abroad are welcome. Preference will be given to disabled applicants in the case of equal qualifications.

The deadline for applicants is September 30, 2010.

PRIF is an independent foundation under public law and is funded by the state of Hesse and the German Federal Government. It became a member of the Leibniz Association on January 1, 2009. With approximately 60 staff members PRIF is the largest German peace research institute.

Please send your written application together with the usual documents and a brief description of your proposed PhD project to:
