

2010-2011 Harry Ransom Center Research Fellowships in the Humanities

Location: Texas, United States

Fellowship Deadline: 2010-02-01

The Harry Ransom Center at The University of Texas at Austin annually awards over 50 fellowships to support scholarly research projects in all areas of the humanities, including literature, photography, film, art, the performing arts, music, and cultural history. Applicants must demonstrate the necessity of substantial on-site use of the Center's collections.

The fellowships range from one to three months, with stipends of $3,000 per month. Also available are $1,200 to $1,700 travel stipends and dissertation fellowships with a $1,500 stipend. Complete applications for the 2010–2011 Research Fellowships in the Humanities must be received by February 1, 2010.

The Center's collections contain 36 million manuscripts, one million rare books, 5 million photographs, and 100,000 works of art, in addition to major holdings in performing arts and film. The Center offers scholars the opportunity to study such diverse holdings as thirteenth-century Italian verse, early map renderings of the moon, European broadsides, seventeenth-century English dramatic poetry, early developments in micro-photography, avant-garde theater design, modern French musical composition, literary portraiture, the art of caricature, censorship in Hollywood, and the work of contemporary African novelists.
