

Call for applications:

2011 "Migrant, Cultural Identity and Media Representation" Summer School

When: 12-16 September 2011

Where: Isola di Marettimo – Sicily (Italy)

The Summer School offers some specific workshops and round tables on submitted papers or case-studies concerning:

- Migrants stereotype on media
- Depiction of Cultural Differences
- Race and Migration in the Community Media
- Media, Migration and Religion
- Refugees-Migrants' Religion in the Digital Age

Papers should not exceed 7.000 words (including citations in Chicago style). At the Summer School, each participant will give a 15 minute presentation followed by discussion. Applicants should submit a 500 word abstract of the proposed research paper and a brief academic CV (in Pdf format) to Elisabetta Di Giovanni at edigiovanni@unipa.it by 4 April 2011 to be considered. Please note in the subject line of your email "Summer School 2011 – Palermo University". Notification of acceptance will be made by 15 April 2011. Successful applicants will be expected to email their papers and pay the fee by 30 June 2011.

€ 200 - Course + course materials + lunches + proceedings with isbn code.

Elisabetta Di Giovanni

University of Palermo (Italy)

Faculty of Scienze della Formazione

+39 091 23897007

Email: edigiovanni@unipa.it

Visit the website at http://www.scienzeformazione.unipa.it/doc/289/summer_school_2011.pdf