

Summer School in Comparative and Transnational History, Theories, Methodology and Case Studies

13-16 September 2010 Location: Italy
Summer Program Deadline: 2010-05-15

The Department of History and Civilization at the European University Institute is a major centre of comparative and transnational European history. The courses will allow you to continue and to broaden your research interests in this field.

Eligibility

Participants should be students of history, the social sciences and related fields of any nationality.

Participants should be graduates or students in their last year.

Enrolment numbers are limited and admission is based on merit.

Hotel accommodation is provided in rooms shared with other participant(s) and an allowance of 30 per day for five days. Travel expenses are not paid.

Participants must have their own medical insurance and pay any medical fees themselves.

Small supplementary grants may be awarded to students from CEE countries.

13-16 September 2010

Villa Schifanoia - via Boccaccio 121 Florence

Sala Europa

Francesca Parenti

HEC Summer School

Department of History and Civilization

European University Institute

via Boccaccio 121

50133 Florence

ph.: 0039 055 4685541

fax: 0039 055 4680203

Email: hec.summerschool@eui.eu

for details and application forms visit

<http://www.eui.eu/DepartmentsAndCentres/HistoryAndCivilization/SummerSchool/Index.aspx>