

The Ukrainian Research Institute, Harvard University is now accepting applications for the The Eugene and Daymel Shklar Research Fellowships in Ukrainian Studies and the Jaroslaw and Nadia Mihaychuk Postdoctoral Research Fellowships in Ukrainian Studies. Both fellowship programs bring scholars from the international academic community to Harvard for focused research on projects in Ukrainian history, literature, philology, culture, and other related areas of study in the humanities and social sciences fields.

Individuals who hold a doctorate in one of the fields listed above and who have demonstrated a commitment to Ukrainian studies are eligible to apply. Those individuals who have received their Ph.D. or academic equivalent (e.g., /Kandydat nauk/) within the past eight to ten years are especially encouraged to submit an application.

To support their stay at Harvard, recipients of these fellowships are provided with a stipend of $3,300 per month to cover the cost of housing, health insurance, and other living expenses. In addition to the stipend, the fellowships also cover the cost of direct roundtrip travel to Harvard University.

Requests for research stays for periods from three to eight months will be considered; adjustments in the requested time-frame may be made at the time of award. The average tenure for a fellow has been four months.

Fellowship applications must be sent to the Institute by March 12, 2010. For further information, go to the Institute website at http://www.huri.harvard.edu/fellowsh_ukrstudies.html.
