A CALL FOR PAPER PROPOSALS OF PH.D STUDENTS IN THE FRAMEWORK OF YOU SHARE-YOUTH SHARING MEMORIES
OF STALINISM AND ITS VICTIMS INTERNATIONAL PROJECT

You Share is a project funded by the European Commission-DG EAC, in the framework of "Europe for Citizens Program- Action 4 Active European Remembrance . Within this Call for Paper proposals international qualified Ph.D students/candidates are requested to submit a paper proposal related to the topic of Stalinism and the resistance to it, both a local and an international dimension, as it has been the case of the ex Soviet Union, Yugoslavia between 1946 and 1953, Hungary in 1947–1957, Czechoslovakia in the 50s and 60s, Western Europe, (although in less dramatic forms), such as in the case of Italy.

Participation in the You Share project includes:

- The presentation of a paper abstract IN English based on current research and in synergy with the project s objectives, to be developed under the supervision of an Academic Coordinator
- Participation in the International Seminar to be held on 21–24 March 2010 in Faenza, Italy
- Participation in the Preparatory meeting of the Final Forum (only for two PhD representatives to be chosen during the International Seminar) to be held on 20-22 May 2010 in Ljubljana, Slovenia
- Participation and final paper presentation during the Final Forum, to be held in Faenza, Italy on 27–30 September 2010

The final versions of the best papers will be published on-line on the PECOB (Portale Europa Centro-Orientale e Balcanica) web portal. Moreover a DVD, containing also part of the paper s research, will be created.

The project will cover the accommodation and travel expenses of the selected candidates, according to modalities to be announced after the selection process.

Deadline for receipt of applications: February 25th 2010
